CAPTRUST Financial Advisors Expands Virginia Operations

Firm adds new talent and strengthens foothold in key retirement market

RALEIGH, N.C. (April 9, 2009) – CAPTRUST Financial Advisors, an independent investment research and fee-based advisory firm, today announced they have hired David A. Camper as Financial Advisor. Camper is a certified retirement plan specialist with more than 25 years of consulting experience working with defined contribution plans.

Camper joins CAPTRUST from Dixon, Hubard, Feinour, Brown, Inc. where he served as a retirement plan advisor with a key focus on plan design and participant education. Camper will be based in Roanoke, Virginia, the firm's second location in the state. CAPTRUST already operates a branch office in Richmond, which opened in 2005 with the acquisition of Atlanta-based, Palmer & Cay Investment Services.

The addition of Camper marks the sixth financial advisor to join CAPTRUST since the start of 2009. J. Fielding Miller, CAPTRUST co-founder and CEO, credits the company's disciplined focus on providing specialized independent and objective investment advice to middle-market companies and their executives for the firm's consistent performance in attracting and retaining financial advisors.

"We strive to be the platinum brand advisory firm for our middle-market companies and their executives," said Miller. "This means we're going to continue to be thoughtful on how we grow as a firm. Attracting and retaining talented advisors who are committed to helping plan sponsors and their participants is ultimately how we'll get there. We're pleased to welcome David to CAPTRUST. His unwavering commitment to his clients and his deep community involvement make him a perfect addition to our firm."
